RE: National Association of Legal Assistants' ("NALA") Affiliates Exchange Presentation:
"The Power of the Web: How Your Association Can Benefit From Today's Technology" NALA 33rd Annual Convention & Exhibition, July 30, 2008 - Oklahoma
City, Oklahoma

Mr. Rimas:

First of all I would like to thank you for taking part in NALA's Member Exchange at this year's convention. "The Power of the Web: How Your Association Can Benefit From Today's Technology" was an ideal lecture topic for the advancement of paralegal associations across the country. You and your partner, Cheryl Winston, were thoroughly prepared and did an outstanding job on the presentation. On behalf of the Alabama Association of Paralegals, Inc. ("AAPI") I extend a sincere thank you for presenting your information and for sharing your passion, enthusiasm, insights, and experience with regard to the benefits of a first-rate website.

Your talk was well done and to the point, with information that helped to illustrate the benefits that technology can bring to an association. The information and ideas you spoke about certainly will help AAPI to re-design our website which will showcase AAPI to the legal community, our current members, future members and students.

Again, thank you and Cheryl for sharing your knowledge with us. We are appreciative of your commitment and contribution to paralegals nationwide.

Sincerely,

Jeanie C. Johnson
President-Elect
AAPI
